Elections To-Day.

Kentucky, Tennessee, and Texas choose their State Officers and Members of Congress to-day, and North Carolina also votes for Members of Congress. In all four States the Democracy, as might be expected, are very sanguine of success, and the Opposition are $75. partially disorganized. The result in Tennessee seems a little doubtful, but as to the other three States, the prospect is that the Democrats will carry them easily, as they have done for some years past. The issues in all of them are mainly local, but in Tennessee the Federal Administration is on Irial before the People. That, if nothing else, ought to defeat the Sham Democracy.

Important Decision.

We learn from the Madison Journal that the Supreme Court has decided affirmatively the question as to the validity of certain bonds issued by the city of Madison for the purchase of the Cometery grounds. The right of the city to issue such bonds was contested by some of the tax-payers of Madison, under the clause of the Constitution limiting the debt creating power. The Court held that the clause referred to applied only to State and not to Municipal indebt dness.

A CAUTION TO THE DEMOCRACY. The Stevens Point Pinery, Administration organ, says that Gov. Dewey will be the Democratic candidate for Governor this fall, and adds: As for the Democracy—their affairs are all fair county, if they can be content to go has the canvass on legitimate issues on the election of State officers, without lugging in the Presidential programme; as sure as they do that we are beatter.

Inasmach as the Douglas men insist upon "ligging in" this question and electing their irlesion Delegates at the State Convention, the warning of the Pinery is of no avail. Its prediction, however, will doubtless come Mons. BLONDIN AT THE FALLS.—The Niagara Falls Gazette says that M. Blondin's programme on Wednesday next, when he will walk the rope for the last time, will contain some new features. He will cross on time-competing with a boat. The distance by the cable conte is considerably further than by water, but Blandin thinks he can travel it sooner than a boat can cross,-On returning, he will stand on his head in the centre of the route.

Another Oshkosh Incendiary Caught -We learn from the Chicago Tribune that a despatch from Detroit was received there Friday stating that one Portun, a fugitive from justice, and believed to have been engaged in the fieldish incondiarism at Oshkosh, Wis., had been arrested in that city. Officer WHIT-NEY FRANK went down to take PARTER to where he will, it is hoped, receive his reward.

DRIVEN OUT .- We learn from the Quincy Republican, of Thursday last, that Mr. E. GRANT, editor of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Free Democrat, had arrived in that city, and that will be ready for the Milicaukec when she ar-he anticipates the destruction of his office by a pro slavery mob. The rescue of Dr. Dox was to be made the pretext for this villainy. TANNERS AT SPARTA. The Sparts Herald hold out inducements to somebody to ald hold our measurement start a tannery in that place.

WEATHER AND CROPS .- Our farmers could not have had better weather for harvesting their grain than that of the past ten days, and never before in this section, probably, was there so great an average yield. Mr. F. Steber has presented us some heads of Canada Club wheat which he toook from a field of 90 cares on the forms of Mr. Calmin, in the Glub wheat which he toook from a field of 90; acres, on the farm of Mr. Crippin, in the town of Marcellon, on Wednesday. These look exceedingly well, and the field will probably yield 30 bushels to the acre. Mr. Crippin's is a fine farm and one of the best entitioned in the County. His crops are all looking equally promising. We have seen some specimens of winter wheat raised in Lowville, that look equally well.

cimens of winter wheat raised in Lowville, that look equally well.

From all the region round about as, we have the most flattering reports as to the condition of the crops, except tay, which is light. Mr. F. C. Curtiss, of Lowville, has a field of 50 acres of the biggest and tallest kind of broom corn, and is going into the business of manufacturing brooms, &c., for the Southern market, which will, no doubt, shows a successful experiment.

the Southern market, which will, no doubt, prove a successful experiment.

A geotherman who was in the towns of Raudolph, Courthind and Scott, on Thesday, says all hands were engaged in harvesting, in every direction reaping machines could be seen in operation, and the prairies covered with wheat further than the eye could reach, and the prairies of the control with wheat further than the eye could reach, and the properties of the control with wheat further than the eye could reach. presented a magnificent sight. — Bidger State, (Portage City) July 30.

THE FIRE ON THE LAKE.—The rumor of the burning of the propeller near Westfield, proved to have been unfounded. The origin of the report is as follows: A party of fishermen from Barcelona crossed over to Long Point to prosecute their calling. The head of the point is covered with sturdy, coarse grass and reeds, which have become very dry in the long drought. The lishermene set fire to the grass some-bow, and the fire spread with great rapidity and fary, and the point was soon a sea of fire. So hot and dangerous did it become, that the fishermen were driven to their boats and compelled to return home. Many p-ople looked through spy glasses and saw the propeller burning! so always on trand, faithfully attending to the ordered of their numerous customers.

We are informed that at the special meeting of the Board of Councillors, Priday evening, a resolution expelling the reporter of the sum of the Sentinel from the Uhamber, was written out, but with more discretion than valor, not read. The reporter will endeavor to be on hand at the next sitting—to hear it.

Beware of Hair Dyr.—The unfortunate condition of a very respectable business man, on East Water street, who attempted to color an extensive beard with some chemical preparation—should warn others to be careful how they use doctor's stuff.

Correspondence of the Missouri Democrat.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 24.

Dr. Doy, recently tried in this city for stealing slaves, was last night rescued from the county jull by a party of six men, who came over from Kansas, and immediately returned with him. The night was dark and rainy, when one of the party awoke the jallor and asked him to receive a horse-thief just arrested, to keep him till Monday morning for trial. The jailor opened the door, when he was immediately placed under an armed guard, who warned him that an attempt at resistance, or alarm would cost him his life. All the prisoners, except Doy, were threatened with shooting, if they attempted an escape or disturbance. Doy was then illegrated, and left with his rescuers, it is supposed, for Kansas. A party has gone out from here in search of them, but is not likely to be successful.

THE WONCESTER REGATTA.—A second rowing regatta was held at Wornester yesterday. There were three race. In the first, two six-vared boats were entered—the "Yale" and the "Harvard" which contended the day before. These boats were rowed in the College Regatta of the day previous, when the Harvard was the winning boat, making the time in 19 minutes and 18 seconds, and beating her competitor one minute and two seconds. In the race yesterday the result was reversed, and the Yale love off the langels. The time made by both boats was bester than that of the previous day. The time made was—Yale 19:14; Harvard 19:16; distance three miles.

thatte was—the 19:14; Harvard 19:16; distance three rolles.

In the second race, four-cared boats were entered. The best time made was by "Leader," of Brooklyn, which came in, in 21:91. In the third race, five single scall boats were entered for a true all parts.

er," of Brooklyn, which came in, in 21:01. In the third race, five single soull hoats were entered for a two mile course. The "Growler" of New York, won in 16:29, followed by the "Friendship," of Boston, in 16:28.

The following prizes were awarded:—Sixoar-d loats, first prize, $100; second prize, $50. Single sculls, first prize, $50; second prize, $25.

The fudge's were D. W. Lincoln, E. Bynner, and George W. Beadle, of Worcester, Amos W. Larnad and R. M. Pratt, of Boston; and A. L. Clarke, of New York.

The Worcester Transcript thus speaks of the college students engaged in these regaths: Accustomed to all the refinements and laxinies of our best American life, they have shown themselves masters of their appetites, and have gained strength of body and character. They have not striven merely for the prize. They have sought to improve those forms and strengthen those muscles which mature gave them. They have alleviated the severity of their studies by exercise that has made them better men. And they deserve the prizes they won.—New York Commercial July 28.

SHIPWRECK AND BLASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.—A letter from Alexandria, on the 30th ult., says a flightful catastrophe has thrown the inlabitants of this city into canstepation.

The steamer Silestria, of the Ottoman timple, on the 25th, with about three hundred and fifty Turkish and Christian passengers on board, foundered at sea in consequence of a leak which sprangin a few hours after site left the port. Only 273 of the persons on board were saved. The remainder perished. The captain and Turkish craw of the vessel acted with the greatest barbarity, preventing by violence and marder, the unfortunate Christians from availing themselves of the assistance providentially sent to them.

During the few hours previous to the vessel going down, scenes of carnage took place on the deck, between the crew, under the orders' of their captain, and the Europeans on board. A Venetian had his head out open by a blow from a hatchet, and others were killed in the struggle. The Christians, in addition to losing all their property on hoard, were robbed of all the money and jewelry they had, about them. The captain and crew of the steamer, on being brought to Alexandria, were put into confinement to await nvestigation into the affair.

exaudria, were put into confinement to await nvestigation into the affair.

The News will probably intimate that the Courier, like the Sential, disapproves of publishing these indecent details, because "no political capital" can be made out of it.

State Teachers' Association.—This beds adjourned on Friday afternoon, after that any former season. The quality of the wheat is very superior. We have seen specimens from various parts of the County, and the berry is uniformly large and plump. All our farmers want now is fair prices to make them as independent as lords.—Oshkosh Courier, July 29.

TRENPELSAU COUNTY.—We conversed with a farmer from this county the other day, who informed us that he never saw such crops on the ground before, and the harvest is secure. Hundreds of acres of wheat will yield 40 bushels to the acre, and the berry is plump, large and well matured. Corn and potatoes promise abundantly. Trempelean County will trable her crop over last year, and she has some of the fine farming land in the State.—La Crosse Republican, July 27.

OUR STATE EXCHANGES duly honor "NYM CRINKLE" by republishing his letters as he passes through their localities, generally with some such preface as this:—" The intelligent correspondent of the Sentinel, NYM CRINKLE. speaks thus of ---. W. M. SINCLAIR.-We invite attention to the advertisement, in to-days' paper, of this enterprising merchant, and heartily endorse the following from the Free Democrat:

The Resear of Dr. Boy.

A Wond ON RATTLESNAKES AND WHIS-rest.—We not unfrequently see it stated in the newspapers that this thing and that thing will cure the bits of rattlesnakes. Now from the newspapers that this thing and that thing will cure the blte of rattle-snakes. Now from personal observation during a residence of five years in one of the Southern States, low down on the Mississiph, the writer of this article feels warranted in saying, that but little reliance is to be placed upon any except what is denominated "Whiskey Cure." This has been the Southern remedy for the last twenty or thirty years. No other section of the Union can compare with the South in regard to the number, variety and size of its reptiles, and it is safe to presume that more persons are bitten there every year than in all other sections of the country combined.—The invariable cure there is whiskey, or other intoxicating spirits. Before this remedy was discovered, the tolacco cure was resorted to. But this is too harsh a remedy, and if taken in sufficient quantities to overcome poison, it is liable to throw the patient into violent spasms. But in the whiskey cure there is no danger. There can be no intoxication until the poison is counteracted, no mater how large the quantity administered, no more than if water instead of spirits had been given. The certainty of this remedy should throw all nureliable ones—and nearly all others that have been named as such asid. It may be assumed as correct, what I will cure the bite of poisonous reptiles in one locality will cure it in another. Hence, the whiskey cure, from its reliability, should supersed all others that have been tested, and in this way namy valuable lives may be preserved.

persede all others that have yet been tested, and in this way many valuable lives may be preserved.

Persons who have been bitten by rattle-snakes usually become excited, and their blood, if not already heated, is one to be very soon. In this way the poison intermingling with the blood, circulates with surprising rapidity throughout the system. Active and powerful then most be the treatment in order to rescue the patient from induced date death. We have known persons to become blind within twenty uninutes after they were bitten, and in such instances it required over a pint of liquor to relieve them. In no case where either whiskey or French brandy has been administered before the patient was actually dying, did we ever know this remidy to fail.

Here in the North where poisonous reptiles are comparatively scarce, rattlesnake bittes have usually terminated fatally. The most skillful physicians have been completely baffied, after resorting to all the remedies of the materia medica, and their patients given up to die. But there is no reason why the fang of a rattlesnake should be notre latal than the bite of a New Jersey mosquite. In case you are bitten, then, resort to the remedy we have named. We do not approve of drunkenness under other circumstances, but should you ever be so unfortunate as to be bitten by a snake, by all means get "gloriously drunk."

you ever be so unfortunate as to be bitten by a snake, by all means get "gloriously drunk," and the sooner you do so, the sooner you will be "all right."—N. Y. Express.

We will add by way of endorsement our own experience on this subject. In the summer of 1856 the writer of this article was out with a hunting party in the Northern part of the State of New York. While passing rapidly through the underbrush on the descent of a hill, he came suddenly upon a rattlemke, which struck him in the leg just above the boot before he could overcome the insmentum or avoid the dauger. The wound presented the appearance of a small puncture rom which issued two or three drops of blood. At the suggestion of one of the party, a stout cord was tied tightly about the limb above the incision, and he drank the contents of their hunting flasks, amounting to nearly a pint of whiskey. In a very short time partial intoxication supervened, which lasted about four hours, during which the wound was washed and nothing but spring water pplied to it. On recovering from the effects of the liquor, the writer experienced no sensations but those attendant on intoxication, and

A year since he was stopping at Greenoch in Arkansas, and was told by an old hunter that the remedy had long been known to backwoodsmen and irappers, and was the only effectual antidote. Science seems to have admitted the fact, in the declaration that the system will not absorb virus of any

In every point of view the change has been a disastrous one to the credit and prosperity of the State.

In that short time the tares have been mearly doubled and the expenditures increased in like proportion. The attempt by the Supreme Court—composed wholly of Republicans, as it was, and is to place Wisconsia in an astitude of hestility to the general Government, is of liself, enough to drive the liquidican party from power. The charge that the Sentinel refrains from publishing the proceedings of the trial, because "no political capital can be made for the Republican Party," is as silly, as it is I am happy to say that to the mass of the course if the most prominent Democrat in the State were in Bootu's place; not from any political reasons, but out of regard for "decency" and respect for our readers. In making this charge, however, the News very tion. It daily offends public decency, and outrages the feelings of its readers, by apreading before them the obscene revelations of the trial, in the hope of making "political capital." That it will utterly fail in this expectation and injure none but itself by the course which it has thought fit to pursue, is obvious to everybody but itself.

The Washington States is the Douglas organ at the Federal Capital. It takes very decided ground, as may be seen from the above article, against the claim of Adopted Citizens to Federal protection beyond the bounds of the United States, and warns the Democracy against admitting this claim, lest they should in the end have to back out ingloriously, as they did from their "fifty-four forty, or fight" resolution in 1844.

A Few Words for Wisconsin. MILWAUKEE, July 30th, 1859. EDITOR SESTINGL:-The accompanying article was written for the New York Tribune. If you deem it worthy, please give it a place in your columns:

The human dice wherewith in games of buttle
The lords of earth compete.

Touched with a grief that needs no outward draping All swelled the long lument, Of grateful hearts, instead of marble, shaping this viewless monument!

For never yet, with ritual pomp and splendor, In the long heretofore, A heart more loyal, warm and true and tender Has Kagland's turf closed o'er. And, if there follous from her grand old steeples No crash of beazen wait, The numerous wee of kindreds, tongues, and peoples Swept in on every gate.

ft came from Holstein's birchen-belted meadows, And from the tropic calma Of Indian lalands in the sunsmit shadows Of Occidental palms;

From the locked roudsteads of the Bothnian peasants And harbors of the Flun, Where war's worn victims saw his gentle presence Come sailing, Christ-like, In. To seek the lost, to build the old waste-places, To link the hostile shores

Of severing seas, and sow with England's daises.
The moss of Finland's moors! Phanks for the good man's beautiful example.
Who in the cliest case Who in the viles; saw Some sacred crypt or altar of a temple Still vocal with God's law;

And heard, with tender ear, the spirit sighing As from its prison cell.

Praying for pity, like the mournful crying Of Jonah out of hell. Not his the golden pen's or lip's persuasion, But a fine sense of right, And truth's directness, meeting each occasion Straight as a line of light.

His faith and works, like streams that intermingle, In the same channel ran; The crystal clearness of an eye kept single Shamed all the frauds of man. The v-ry gentlest of all human natures. He joined to courage strong.

He joined to courage strong,
And love outreaching unto all Gad's creatures
With sturdy have of wrong, Tender at woman; insuliness and incoknoss. In him were so allful. That they who judged him by his strongth or weaknes. Saw but a single side. Icu failed, betrayed him; but his zeal seedied nourished By failure and by fail; Still a large faith in human kind heicherished And in God's love for all. And now he reste his greatness and his sweetness. No mere shall seem at strife, And death has mouldered into enhal completeness. The statue of his life.

Where the dews glisten and the song-hirds warble His dust to dust is half In Nature's keeping, with no pomp of marble To shame his modest shade.

The forges glow, the hammers all are ringing Buneath its smoky veil, Hard by the city of his love is swinging the chancrum from Bail.

But round his grave are quietude and beauty, And the sweet heaven above— The fitting symbol of a life of duly Transfigured into love!

United States Circuit Court, Baltimore. Before Hon. Judge Giles, July 19—H. H. Day and others vs. Stillman Heinrichs.— Before Hon. Judge Giles, July 19—II. H. Day and others vs. Stillman Heinrichs.—This case, which occupied nine days in the argument, was determined in favor of complainants. The great question involved seems to have been the extent of the title which H. H. Day acquired under certain agreements with Charles Goodyear in 1846, and an agreement dated in May, 1858. Un the one side it was contended that the grant of 1846 conveyed to Day the right to use not merely a patent of Goodyear's for a species of shirted goods, dated March 9, 1844, with the addition of Goodyear's patent for vulcanized rubber in such connection, but the addition also to use vulcanized rubber in the manufacture of every description of shirted goods, whether the same were produced by sewing, weaving, or cementing (the cementing process being that described in the patent of March 9, 1844.) The defendents, on the other hand, insisted that the right of Day to use vulcanized rubber was conflued strictly to the manufacture, not of shirred goods generally, but of the shirred goods particularly specified in the patent of March 9, 1844.

Simple as this question seems, the solution of it was complicated with so much testimony, documentary and other, that the development and discussion of it occupied the time above mentioned. The decision of Judge Giles was, that the agmentant of 1846 gave to Day the right to use the vulcanized rubber in the manufacture of shirred goods generally, whether the shirring was the result of sewing, weaving or cementing together the ribbon in the manufacture of shirred goods generally, whether the shirring was the result of sewing, weaving or cementing together the ribbon in a state of tension with the inclustic material. The Judge examined the validity of the title of the complaints under the grant of May, 1858, and expressed the opinion that at the time it was made, Goodysen had a perfect right to convoy what was described upon its face. But, while thus indicating his view in this respect, the Judge placed his decision under the agreement of 1848. The result was that the injunction heretofore granted was made perpetual.

was made perpetual. Horace GREELEY IN TROUBLE .-- Mr. GREELEY, in a letter to the Tribune, relates that early on the morning of the 4th of July he lost his trunk while fording a river. He says:

We made hasty search for the estray, but without success, and after an hours' delay, our conductor drave off, leaving my trunk still in the bottom of Sweetwater, which is said to be ten feet deep just below our ford. I would rather have sank a thousand dollars there. Efforts were made to fish it out, but my hope of ever seeing it again is a faint one. We forded Sweetwater six times yesterday after that. without a single mishap, but I have hardly yet become reconciled to the loss of my trunk, and on the whole, my Fourth of July was not a happy one.

of July was not a happy one. SMOKE CONSUMERS. - The Pittsburgh Jour nal says that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is having experiments tried to test the question as to consumption of smoke by locomotives. That paper says:

We have just learned from Joseph Pennoek, Esq., that he came up from Attoona to Cresson on Tuesday the 19th inst., and returned again on a locomotive to which a smoke consumer was attached; and that s smote consourer was attented; and that so fully was this successful that the party could see no smoke escape, and that the dresses of ladies seated on the engine and tender were not even soiled in the slightest degree by anything that escaped. We therefore think abating improvement will be an accomplished fact."
